

Full Stack Engineer

In this role, you'll:

- Own entire features sets: definition, design and development
- Mentor other engineers as we continue to grow our team
- Help out in building the core infrastructure for our engineering team
- Have full ownership of critical components of the platform
- Work closely with other developers and our team to tackle business problems using the best technologies available
- Proactively contribute ideas for new features as well as identify areas for improvement

Who we're looking for:

- Strong understanding of Web technologies and distributed systems
- 5+ years of industry experience doing full stack software development
- 3+ years in Ruby on Rails development
- Proficiency in JavaScript and at least two front-end JS frameworks
- Experience designing and developing REST APIs
- Experience with NOSQL and SQL data storage, experience with Elasticsearch a plus
- BS or MS in Computer Science or equivalent work experience
- Excellent software engineering, design and architecture skills
- Familiarity with Unix shell tools development environment
- Self-starter with a can-do attitude who has relentless desire to improve quality and quantity of her output
- Team player with strong communication skills, both written and verbal
- Demonstrated system thinking and expertise in more than one layer of a multi-tier architecture
- Focused on simplicity and effectiveness of solutions
- Constantly seeking feedback through peers design & code reviews

Bonus, if you are:

- Familiar with AWS, Docker Containers and Ansible
- Familiar with Backbone.js and Marionette.js

Apply Now